"[Meduit's] attention to detail is unsurpassed. They dig deep into problems and identify root causes that had meaningful impact across our entire hospital system."

"[Meduit] complements large, outsourced revenue cycle vendors by focusing on the "backend" bad debt that is often overlooked due to longer collection cycles and cost reimbursement."

A Needed Solution for Today's Healthcare Providers

Meduit Medicare Bad Debt helps healthcare providers maximize their net revenue realization and recovery through niche, high-value areas. Powered by decades of industry finance, reimbursement, and revenue cycle experience paired with a leading technology offering, Meduit has quickly become a preferred partner of health systems across the country.

Rapid Change Is the Norm in Healthcare

Connectivity gaps are appearing in the revenue cycle and reporting operations. Increased consolidation activity, staff turnover, system conversions or upgrades, collection agency issues, and new regulation changes are just some of the issues that drive missed value for healthcare providers.

An Imperfect Solution

A health system's net revenue reporting process typically involves the finance team, a consultant or accounting service, and technology tools. While this approach correctly reports most of the net revenue each year, we have found missed value 100% of the time with our clients. The experts do not leverage the power of technology and technology providers do not have the expertise to incorporate the nuances of industry change.
